Mr. White has not been in good health for a year or more, and he is now at Homburg taking the waters. He probably will remain there until the end of the month.

There is much gossip in Berlin concerning Mr. White's probable successor, and one circumstantial story is that the President intends to transfer Ambassador Tower from St. Petersburg to Berlin, Minister Storer from Spain to be ambassador to Russia and to appoint Henry White, now secretary of embassy at London, as minister to Spain. Mr. Tower, who has been dissatisfied with St. Petersburg, expressed months ago a wish to be transferred to some other equally desirable post, prefer-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 .- No information has been received at the State Department Indicating that Ambassador White had resigned, but the announcement was not unexpected, as a report was current some time ago that he would retire from public life upon reaching his seventieth birthday. Several gentlemen in the diplomatic service have been mentioned in connection with the Berlin embassy should Ambassador White retire, the most prominent being Dr. David Jayne Hill, now first assistant secretary of state, and Hon. Bellamy Storer, at present minister to Spain.

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 5.-The resignation of Ambassador White has been expected by his friends in this city for many months, particularly since the death of his son, Frederick D. White, of Syracuse, in July, 1901. Dr. White will be seventy years old in November, and the reason assigned here for his withdrawal from the honorable post which he occupied at Berlin is that he is has completed a work on his experiences and reminiscences as diplomat at Berlin and St. Petersburg and is constantly engaged in literary work. He has retained his home on the campus since he left Cornell University, and it is considered probable that he will return here to live. Dr. White's daughter, Mrs. Clara Newberry, will sail Simeon B. Carey came of the old English stock that emigrated from England in 1634. He was born in Shelby county, Ohio, on Dec. 22, 1822. His father was one of the active Virginian farmers immediately after the revolutionary war. He later moved to Ohio where Simeon was born. Young Carey remained on his father's farm until he was eighteen years old. He spent his time in learning husbandry and gathering such rudiments of education as the little neighboring log schoolhouse afforded. His father then moved to Sidney, where young Carey was given a course in a grammar school. He entered a store as a clerk, and in two years formed a partnership with his brother under the firm name of B. W. & S. B. Carey. Simeon Carey represented the firm in New York in purchasing dry goods. He remained in the East a few years and gained a large business education. Travel in his early days had many hardships and he was obliged to go from Sidney to Cincinnati by stage and then by steamer to Brownsville, where he traveled again by stage. While still operating the little store in Sidney, he with his brothers, Thomas and Jason, made an overland trip to California with pack mules. It took the party three months to complete the trip. They remained on the coast but one year when the illness of one of the brothers necessitated their return to Sidney. They took passage on a sailing craft leaving San Francisco then to New Orleans. SPANGLER FAMILY.

It Is Also Claimed that Brandon Married an Illinois Girl-Miss Spangler His Real Wife.

John Brandon, a contractor of Lima, O. seems to have had a checkered matrimonial career in Indiana within the last two years. Brandon began by marrying Miss Daisy Spangler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Spangler, living at 620 Harlan street, this city, on Dec. 20, 1900. He deserted her after an eleven-day honeymoon, and on Jan. 9, 1902, is said to have married Miss Beatrice Bressler, of Marion. Since then it is said Brandon has taken a third wife at Springfield, Ill., without legal release from the others. Prior to his marriage with Miss Spangler he had a wife in Lima, but was divorced from her. After not know that their mother was dead. his marriage with Miss Spangler, it is said. he did not secure a legal separation before

> Miss Spangler was visiting relatives in Lima, when she made the acquaintance of Brandon. She was a girl of seventeen and susceptible and consented to marry him. He visited her at her home in this city at different times, and Mrs. Spangler said last night that she never liked the looks of Brandon and tried to persuade her daughter not to marry him. He is not handsome. she said, but had a smooth tongue and carried her daughter away by exhibiting money. At one time, she said, he counted out $1,000 in their house and gave the money to her daughter to count. On Dec. Blind Woman Says Her Eyesight Was 20, 1900, they were married and left for Kansas City on a bridal trip. Mrs. Spangler says they returned in eleven days. Brandon said he had business in Lima and left the city alone, promising his bride that he would send for her in a few days. That was the last seen or heard of Brandon until the following August. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler, their daughter and another young woman were at the fair grounds, where the National Guard was in camp. As they were coming out of the amphitheater Mrs. Brandon saw her husband and called her mother's attention to him. CHARGED WITH WIFE DESERTION

There was a brief consultation and Mrs. Brandon spoke to her husband. He said he wanted to talk to her. She told him she did not care to have more to do with him. Mrs. Spangler said she was afraid to leave her daughter with him. An arrangement was made, however, that Brandon should meet his wife and her friend at the end of the English-avenue car line, which is near the Spangler home, that evening. Mrs. Brandon then went to the police station to swear out a warrant for her husband's arrest on a charge of desertion. It was too late, but the officer said he would have the district men on hand at the appointed hour. At the time set Brandon met his wife and her friend, and presently two patrolmen came along. They had been notified and immediately took charge of Brandon. They searched him, and finding a revolver in his pocket locked him up on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon so that Mrs. Brandon would have time to place a charge of desertion against him. Brandon showed his shrewdness on the following morning by effecting a compromise and getting out of the city. The the court believe he was a traveling man. them for Mrs. Brandon to file suit for divorce, and Brandon agreed to pay both at- not been found.

torneys their fees and all the costs if she would not prosecute him. Her heart softened under his pleadings and she consented. Brandon was then driven to the station by his attorney and left. The divorce suit was filed, but Brandon's attorney "lost" the papers that bound the agreement, and by a legal technicality the case was thrown out of court.

GIRL FROM MARION. The Spanglers heard nothing of Brandon until one week ago yesterday, when Beatrice Bressler, her father and mother, of Marion, Ind., came to the city to look for Brandon. Miss Bressler is the girl Brandon married after he left Miss Spangler. Mrs. Spangler said that Miss Bressler called at her home but did not state her mission, other than to say she wanted to talk with her daughter. She was a stenographer in Brandon's office in Lima, and said she did not know he had married Miss Spangler. She said Brandon denied that he was married. Mrs. Spangler was recently informed by relatives in Lima that Brandon had married Miss Bressler at a small town near that place. She said she asked Miss Bressler if she married Brandon at that place and her reply was: "I did not marry him there." She said Miss Bressler would not say whether she had married Brandon. Mrs. Spangler-Brandon is now visiting in Lima. The Bressler woman is described as being a tall blonde, pretty and about twenty years old. She figured in the affairs of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon before, Mrs. Spangler said, Mrs. Spangler's daughter complained to her mother about Brandon speaking frequently of "B," a short name he used for Beatrice Bressler, showed her love letters Miss Bressler had writen to him and also her photograph. Mrs. Spangler says that on the night her daughter was married, Miss Bressler's photograph was burned, and that Brandon said: "If that girl knew what I was doing to-night-" and shook his head When Mr. and Mrs. Brandon went to Kansas City, Mrs. Spangler said he proposed that they settle there. They had been there a week, her daughter informed her, when Brandon received a letter from Miss Bressler, and he immediately told his wife that he must telegraph "B" and ask her if she objected to returning to Indianapolis. She did not and they came back, Brandon leaving her with her parents and going on to TALK OF ANOTHER WIFE. It is said that Brandon now has another wife in Illinois, but no one seems to know where she is. It is not known whether the Marion girl will prosecute Brandon or not. Mr. Spangler said last night that he would do all he could to bring him to justice. His daughter is the legal wife, as Brandon was divorced from his first wife. Mrs. Spangler said, as tears came to her eyes: "I always believed that everything would hoped that some day something would happen to that villain that would clear our daughter and show that she is innocent of any wrongdoing." She said she never liked Brandon, that neither she nor her daughter thought he was handsome, but he had a smooth tongue. She said her daughter seemed to be bound to him by some strange sort of fascination before their marriage, and after the desertion Daisy said: "I don't know why I married him. He is the ugliest man I ever saw, but I can't explain a peculiar influence he seemed to have over me." Brandon is now about thirty years old. Mr. Spangler said he had ability to carry on any kind of business, and is quite intelligent. "He is a smooth talker,' he said, "and it is his tongue that carries him through. A few days ago Mrs. Spangler received a letter from her daughter in Lima, saying she had learned from Brandon's sister that he had mysteriously disappeared from a hotel in Detroit nine months ago. She wrote that it was the impression he had met with foul play.

GAS BELT BUSINESS MEN BEGIN TO RAISE A FUND.

Efforts Will Be Made to Prevent the Pumping of Gas from the Field-Another Meeting to Be Held.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., Aug. 5 .- At a meeting of the executive committee of the Manufacturers' Gas Waste Association of the Indiana gas belt, held in this city to-night, $1,000 were raised in five minutes as a fund which will be used to stop the pumping of natural gas from the Indiana field. As determined by to-night's meeting a general meeting of the manufacturers of the gas belt will be called at a time and place yet to be fixed for the purpose of raising additional funds to the full amount required for the opposing companies, who are forcing gas away by means of pumping stations. A plan of action will be determined on at this

The members of the committee present tonight were S. J. Mack, Anderson; J. P. Kelley, of the Kelley Axe Company, Alexandria; E. B. Ball, of the Ball Brothers' Glass Company, Muncie; G. R. Bell, Hartford City, and George N. Catterson, Matthews. The meeting was directly the result of the recent decision of Judge Ryan, of the Madison county Circuit Court, in which gas companies are enjoined from pumping gas from that part of the Indiana field over which he has jurisdic-

It is a fact that the majority of the manufacturers present at the meeting to-night own, or are interested in, gas pumping stations. Yet not one failed to express himself as in favor of doing away entirely with the pumping of gas. E. B. Ball said that the field would require no pumping if the outside stations were done away with. He says tests have been made which indicate this to be true. The general opinion of those present at the meeting was that if the pumping of natural gas were discontinued at once the Indiana field would last for ten or fifteen years to come.

WHO WERE WOUNDED IN THE RIOTS EARLY LAST WEEK.

Official Report on the First Outbreak -Habeas Corpus Case Hearing Concluded Before Judge Goff.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Aug. 5 .- The peace of this troop-protected town remains unbroken. The unsettled feeling which has been apparent for the last few days, however, continues. It was a lively day at brigade headquarters, where all the staff officers were kept busy in connection with the movements of the troops and in keeping in touch with the situation in the enturn out right, and I have waited and tire county. There were many rumors of trouble, but excepting at Girardville, where a workman was shot and slightly injured, nothing of a serious nature occurred anywhere. Brigadier General Gobin was unusually alert, however, and kept soldiers in readiness for instant use all day long. Many stories of threatened trouble reached him. but he was able in every instance to run them down without sending out a detail of men. Officers around headquarters feel that the tension is increasing and would not be surprised if some of the troops now in camp here were sent into the surrounding region. The brigadier general says he will not send for additional men until there is need for them. It is not unlikely, however, that a battery and another troop of cavalry will be in the field by the end of the week.

Report was made to headquarters today that three members of Company I of the Twelfth Regiment were chased by a crowd of men last night on the outskirts of the town and that the soldiers had sought refuge in the house of Squire McGuinness, of Frackville. The soldiers left the camp without leave after dress parade last evening. They did not carry firearms. On the road to Frackville the soldiers were seen by men in that neighborhood and soon twenty men carrying clubs and pistois gathered with the intention of assaulting them. The soldiers fled and the crowd attempted to run them into a mine-hole on the outskirts of Frackville. The militiamen met the squire and he took them to his home and kept them there until to-day, when they returned to camp. Brigadier General Gobin in the meantime heard of the incident and sent the cavalry over to Frackville, but before the troops reached there the three men had returned to camp. General Gobin said the three soldiers, who belong in Williamsport, will be court-martialed. Burgess David Brown, president of the Council, David R. Jones and Chief of Police John Frick held a conference with General Gobin to-day and confessed their inability to cope with the situation as it exists in the southern section of Shenandoah. The Cambridge colliery, owned by Mr. Jones and Squire McGinness, is located there. The borough officials told the general that men gather in that part of the town and molest every person, not excepting the women that happen along. Men, they said, can no longer work there in safety. The burgess said that one man in the crowd had boasted that their object was murder if they can find the man they are seeking. Threats are openly made and the officials requested that troops be sent there. General Gobin consented to station two companies of infantry in that locality and on the road leading to Turkey

Two injured Lithuanians, who were in the riots of last week were arrested today. The constable located them and asked the military officials for protection while the arrests were made. The two prisoners, who received wounds in the feet, were boarding in the foreign quarter of the town. A detachment of the Fourth Regiment surrounded the house and the men were placed on a wagon. Soldiers then formed a cordon around the vehicle and escorted it through the streets to the office of Squire Shoemaker, who committed the men to Scottsville jail. The two foreigners were held in $2,000 bail each on various charges in connection with the riot. After the hearing they were taken in a carriage surrounded by a company of soldiers to the Pennsylvania road station, The journey to the station was made on a run through the foreign settlement. At the depot, Company K, of the Fourth Regiment, was lined up in charge bayonet formation. On the bluff, overlooking the station, there were more than 1,000 strikers. The crowd was kept at a distance and the men were soon whirled away to the Pottsville jail.

Charged with threatening to kill Peter Remus, of Buffalo, N. Y., Hartman Breuil, a coal and iron policeman, of Philadelphia employed at Packer colliery No. 4 of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, was arrested to-night on a warrant sworn out by Remus and was held in $1,000 bail, which was furnished. Remus charges that he was unwillingly taken to the colliery and when he wanted to leave he was threatened by Breuil, Company officials deny Remus's story. They say he wanted to quit work without giving the usual notice. A dispute followed and Remus left the colliery. The officials say that Breuil did not threaten Remus. Collieries Picketed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 5.-Lest some of the coal companies might attempt to spring a surprise on the strikers and stars up some of their mines to-day pickets were stationed in the vicinity of nearly every colliery, but no attempt was made to resume operations at any of the mines. At Nanticoke four men were arrested charged with inciting a riot. It is alleged they interfered with the deputies in charge of one of the mines of the Susquehanna Coal Company. The defendants were held in $500 ball each for trial at court. If the other companies were as alert as the Susquehanna there would be many more arrests. The officials of the company operating the Nanticoke mines say they intend to pursue every case where their men are interfered with. At the offices of the local coal companies it is said that reports are being received daily that there is more or less dissatisfaction among the strikers and that their meetings of late have become stormy
